WHITES & ROSÉS

ASSYRTIKO, Domaine Sigalas, Santorini, Greece, 2016 11

Grown on the volcanic soils of the island of Santorini, Assyrtiko is truly a pleasure to drink. Grown in a basket style with the grapes in the center to protect from the vicious winds, the wine is acid driven with loads of minerality and personality; this is a wine to try if you love dry Riesling or Sauvignon Blanc.

CHARDONNAY, Cakebread, Napa Valley, California, 2014 20

PINOT GRIGIO, Santa Margherita, Friuli, Italy, 2014 12

RIESLING, Ryan Williams, Seneca Lake, New York, 2013 12

ROSÉ, Bellwether Wine Cellars, “Vin Gris,” Finger Lakes, New York, 2013 13

Bellwether Wine Cellars winemaker Kris Matthewson was just called a “rockstar” in the New York Times and this wine, along with his wonderful dry Riesling and Pinot Noir, shows why. A Vin Gris, or “grey wine”—a white wine made from red grapes—this is more akin to dry rose than white wine. Natural winemaking at its finest, with no unnecessary additives or intervention, Bellwether continues to be a leader of geeky winemaking in the Finger Lakes, and shows what the region can do with passionate people always pushing the boundaries.

SAUVIGNON BLANC, Serge Laloue, “Cuvee Silex,” Sancerre, France, 2014 14

BORDEAUX, Château Phélan Ségur, Saint-Estèphe, France, 2011 ...27

BRUNELLO DI MONTALCINO, Caparzo, Tuscany, Italy, 201125

CABERNET FRANC, Olga Raffault, “Les Picasses,” Chinon, France, 2011 13

A beautiful Cabernet Franc from perhaps the greatest region—certainly the most undervalued—for the grape in the world, Chinon. Olga Raffault is a maestro of Chinon, producing some of the most ageworthy and elegant wines around. Grown on tufa soils the wine shows an amazing depth of flavors with earth, spice, red fruits, and herbaceous notes all at once.

CHARDONNAY, Simi, Sonoma, California, 2014 58

CHARDONNAY, St. Innocent, “Freedom Hill,” Willamette Valley, Oregon, 2014 61

Built in a Burgundy style from the great Freedom Hill Vineyard near Salem, Oregon, the wine is whole cluster pressed and fermented in used French oak barrels and rests on lees for 11 months. Tasted blind, the wine is reminiscent of the power and minerality of a fine Meursault with amazing balance. Oregon Chardonnay at its finest.

CHARDONNAY, Three Monkeys , “ Illume ,” Russian River Valley, California, 2011	72
CHENIN BLANC, Beaumont , Bot River, South Africa, 2014	43

CHENIN BLANC, Francois Pinon, “Les Trois Argiles,” Vouvray, France, 2011 42

Vouvray may be one of the most underrated wine regions in the world, and Chenin Blanc, one of the most underrated grapes. Showing an amazing complexity with layers of honey, wool, stone fruit, and other heady aromas with a hint of sweetness just to balance out the searing acid levels, this wine is a must try if you love off-dry Riesling, or just simply a fan of something new and interesting.

GEWURTZTRAMINER, Dirler-Cadé, “Grand Cru Kessler,” Alsace, France, 2009 59

From biodynamic father-son producer Dirler-Cadé, this Gewurtztraminer from the famous Kessler grand cru in Alsace is simply stunning. When we visited the winery just recently for harvest, the team’s dedication to producing simply the best wines in the region, and respecting the land and letting the terroir speak truly showed.

CABERNET FRANC, Ryan Williams, Seneca Lake, New York, 2012	54

Situated in the heart of the Finger Lakes, Ryan Williams sits on the South Eastern shore of Seneca Lake. Vine plantings extend to the shoreline, mitigating some of the challenges faced by other growers in the region. Dry farmed without the use of pesticides, the wine is wonderfully balanced, medium bodied, with black fruits and spice, truly showing the potential of Cabernet Franc in the Finger Lakes.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON, Artesa, "Elements," Napa, California, 2011	96
CABERNET SAUVIGNON, Cade, Napa, California, 2014	121

From the makers of Plumpjack, one of the most sought after cult Cabernets around, comes Cade, a rich, layered, mountain cabernet that uses warm fermentations—they actually wheel the fermentation tanks out in the morning sun to let them heat up—to increase the layers of fruit and extraction in the wine.

Located in the foothills of the Andes Mountains, on the gravelly slopes of a 45 acre single vineyard the Pena family makes their award winning Domus Aurea. Committed to extremely low yields, and harvesting vine by vine for optimal ripeness, the Pena’s craft an intense and harmonious wine that drinks well above its price.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON, M. Etain, Rutherford, Napa, California, 2012 310

Can a $300 wine be a value? Maybe, when it’s one of the single most hard to come by cult cabs produced. From one of the most modern, elegant, and cutting edge producers—they also produce the micro-production Scarecrow—M. Etain (Tin Man), named after the character from the Wizard of Oz, is plush and elegant, powerful and restrained, rich and dense, all at the same time.

Planted on the slope of Sicily's Mt. Etna, on active volcano, Scinniri is one of the pioneering producers

Planted on the slopes of Sicily's Mt. Etna, an active volcano, Scinniri is one of the pioneering producers leading to the revolution of quality and the rediscovering of the native grapes of Etna. Made from ancient, indigenous grapes Nerollo Mascalese & Cesanese with some Petit Verdot tossed in, the wine is light ruby in color, medium bodied, with lush berry fruit, a touch of spice, and finishes lean and minerally with a lasting fruit finish.

PETITE SIRAH, Forlorn Hope, "Les Deux Mathieux," California, 2010 69

With only 47 cases produced, Les Deux Mathieux Petite Sirah is a wine to try before it's gone. Winemaker Matthew Rorick is a man who loves longshots, underdogs, and unheralded varieties, and he has found a gem in Petite Sirah. Huge, plump, layered, without losing its sense of place or balance, this is a full-throttle, high octane, quintessential California wine.

ZINFANDEL, Dashe, Dry Creek Valley, California, 2013 48

At Dashe Cellars, Michael and Anne are committed to creating wines that reflect the unique soil, climate and regional characteristics of world-class vineyards. Focusing on older vines, steep hillside locations, rocky soils and stressful growing conditions, Dashe Zinfandel is then blended with 11% Petite Sirah giving it a richer, deeper profile. Red cherry and raspberry reverberates on the palate with complexities of mocha and clove.
